01 Praying to Fulfill Christ's Central Mission to the Ends of the Earth

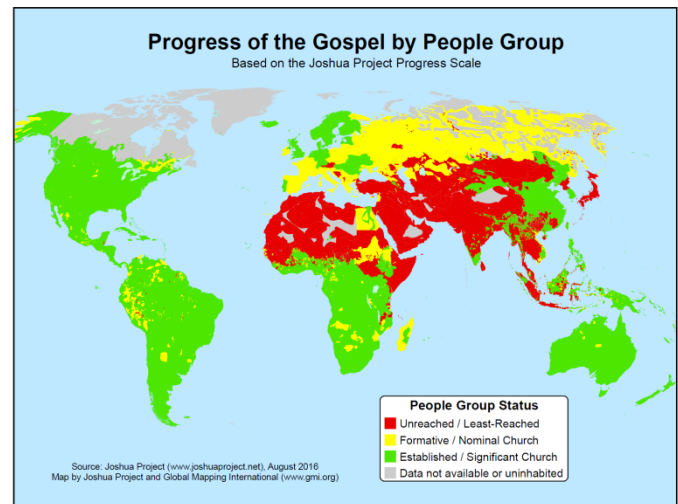

"Give up your small ambitions!" That is what the great Jesuit missionary, Francis Xavier, wanted the youth of his day to know as he pioneered sharing the Gospel of Christ among the unreached peoples of Asia in the 16th century. He wanted them to give up those lesser intentions that were in their minds for their lives in order to get involved in Jesus' unique missions for them.

Not that our personal ambitions are small in our eyes, but compared to the ambitions God has for us they are very tiny and inconsequential. What is the main mission to which we are being called to give ourselves? The great Unfinished Task, the mission of the ages, the reason Jesus Christ, the Lord of the Universe and Eternity, came and gave Himself on that cross of torture, shame and death was that all people on earth would be blessed, rescued from darkness and futility in order to experience abundant life here and eternal life beyond the grave.

The Moravians were some of those through history that grasped that mission and laid hold of it with all their hearts in both prayer and action. Like the early church did before them. They became militant for the Lord and His purposes for their lives. When the Spirit of God came upon them in 1727, only about 200 of them took on the world of their time, first giving themselves to prayer and then many of them went to the ends of the earth to share Jesus with those who had never heard of His love and truth. They came to grasp that this was the highest of all callings—ongoing prayer connected with life-long mission.

The IPC has sought to maintain a strong focus through the years on this same awesome Unfinished Task, the mission of the ages. Jesus told His followers in the Great Commission, "Go and make disciples of all nations". The word "nations" there is ethne in the original language. Therefore, it is better rendered "ethnic groups" or people groups defined by their unique cultures and languages that make up the political nations. For example, in Toronto, Canada, which means "meeting place" there are now about 400 ethnic groups from around the world. In the rest of Canada and North America there are many more. The Great Commission has not been accomplished till disciples have been made in all such groups.

Across the world, there are about 12,000 such people groups, some of which have heard the Gospel and developed movements to Christ; others have still not had that opportunity. About 5500 Unreached People Groups still do not have an indigenous movement of believers with numbers and resources to reach their groups (less than 5% Christian). An even more needy subset- 4700 "Frontier" or least reached people groups are less than 0.1% Christian. The Great Commission calling is still underway and incumbent upon us as His followers until each people group has heard the Gospel in a way that makes sense within their culture and worldview. Throughout the history of the prayer and mission movements, such people groups have no intercessors or churches praying for them and no known missionary force engaging them. They are still unreached and unengaged. 1600 of these groups are Bibleless people groups that still need to have God's Word translated into their own languages.

This map shows the progress of the Gospel by People Group and helps us to visualize where we are in finishing this Unfinished Task. The red areas are where the priority for prayer coupled with mission needs to be focused within the band of nations from northern Africa, through the Middle East to Central and South Asia, where false religious systems of Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism hold sway over the lives of most.

Asia itself, and especially South Asia, has over ¾ of the remaining Unreached and Frontier people groups needing to be reached. Who will go to share Jesus Christ with them? It will be challenging and costly, but also the most compelling and meaningful adventure of a lifetime and has to be accomplished. Are any of us ready to take it on? As Isaiah said, “Here I am, Lord, send me.”

Jesus said in John 4, “My food is to do the will of him who sent me and to finish his work.” Food is the number one drive of us humans and who doesn’t enjoy it? It brings a sense of fulfillment, satiation, sustenance and delight. For Jesus and for us, accomplishing the will of the Father should be like food. Have we discovered that? He then asks his disciples to open their eyes and look at the fields that are ripe for harvest and says that they are called to play their part in sowing and reaping the harvest, a harvest of human beings for eternal life. God has been preparing this great harvest, through all the ups and downs and good and bad of human history. What happens to individuals as well as whole nations in one vast drama of the ages is being used by Him in consummate love and wisdom to prepare this great harvest so that we humans can become His companions for eternity. Wow! Jesus also said there will be great rejoicing among the sowers and reapers. There is no greater joy than sharing this Gospel of abundant and eternal life with those still lost in spiritual and moral darkness.

Clearly, the central, overall mission God is calling all of us to is the Great Commission-- to do our unique part to bring in the Harvest of the Ages, whether as sowers or reapers, using our particular gifts and resources to advance this most holy and wonderful desire of the Lord for humanity. How then do we go about it?

- 1) Surrender ourselves through prayer for the enabling of the Holy Spirit (Acts 1:4-8, 14) In Acts 1:4-8. Jesus tells His disciples to wait until they receive the gift of being baptized with the Holy Spirit through which they will receive the power to be His witnesses to Jerusalem, Judea, Samaria even to the ends of the earth. This word provoked them to seek God through intense prayer and through it they developed a culture of prayer and dependence upon God. “They all joined together constantly in prayer” (Acts 1:14). This is what readied them for the mighty outpouring of the Spirit on Pentecost and all the subsequent breakthroughs in mission throughout book of Acts. When God’s people have practiced the same culture, similar breakthroughs have happened through the history of the Church and missions since. Great revivals like that which visited the Moravians came about by seeking the face of God through non-stop availability to the Lord in prayer. This is still the same explosive recipe for both revival and mission breakthroughs in our time!
- 2) Ask for the power and guidance of Holy Spirit because the mission of bringing in the Harvest is impossible without Him. In my own experience in university, I was a terribly shy person and so scared to be a witness for Christ. In spite of great trepidation, with the Spirit’s enabling, I spoke publicly to a group of other students and the power of God came upon me, emboldening me afterwards to serve as a campus evangelist, then go to Asia as a field missionary. Since that time over 50 years ago, the Lord has taken me to over 100 nations in mission and prayer initiatives. The Lord, the God of Miracles, has given provision, help, encouragement throughout. Nothing is more satisfying and fulfilling than serving Him among the peoples of earth. These years have been thrilling ones, thanks be to God!

As we pray and surrender selves, it opens the door for the Almighty Lord to bring about transformation within us as well as supernatural breakthroughs among the unreached just as happened in the book of Acts. Through united prayer with like-minded national Christian leaders, colleagues and I have repeatedly over many years witnessed the atmosphere of cities and nations change from war to peace and from resistance or apathy to the Gospel to great receptivity, resulting in many coming to Christ. For example, in Cambodia after a 1994-95 national prayer initiative backed by the international prayer movement, Khmer Rouge terrorists who had massacred their countrymen for 20 years succumbed within three months, turning in their weapons to the government and surrendering en masse. They even put their own leader, Pol Pot, on trial themselves for his war crimes. Spiritual darkness through mass bloodshed and idolatry gave way to 10,000 believers in Christ becoming an estimated 500,000 over the next 20 years (50 times). In Bosnia, after a wartime prayer initiative, a peace agreement was signed as the prayer initiative finished, and with the restoration of peace, the believers were able to take the Gospel to every home. To the glory of the Lord and only through the power and guidance of the Holy Spirit, eight wars have been stopped in the same way, with other major transformations occurring that have catalyzed the mission of Christ in those countries.

3) Prayer and effective mission go together, starting with maintaining a vital connection with the Lord in prayer first.

"Apart from me you can do nothing," Jesus said (John 15:5). Therefore, let us surrender ourselves to the Master of Mission Himself. None of us has any guarantee as to how long we will live. Let us, therefore, let Christ give us His special vision for the part of the Harvest He wants each of us to engage with, so that our lives will bring forth 30, 60 or 100-fold for His global purposes, and so that we will hear Him say "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter the joy of your Lord."

Let us invest ourselves in prayer and mission to reach the unreached. Doors will open as we pray and make ourselves available. Adopt an unreached group as your responsibility in prayer and see how He leads you. Your prayers will help multiply the harvesters. That may include you as well as you take that people group into your heart or you may play a vital role helping others go to reach them.

Attached you will find a prayer guide for the largest unreached groups that still do not have indigenous movements to Christ and need our prayers. Start by praying for one each day of the coming month and see if God would have you to adopt one of them for ongoing prayer and mission effort. Go deeper by doing some of your own research and see if there are any from this group in your region with whom you could develop relationships.

Another way you can get involved over the next two years is through the Go 2020 mission effort. It is an international campaign to mobilize 100 million believers to share Jesus Christ with one billion unreached people by May 2020. Increasing numbers of mission and prayer organizations are cooperating to enable this to happen. A description of how to get involved is at www.go2020.world.

02 Andrew Brunson's Jail Song

Andrew Brunson, a missionary in Turkey unjustly imprisoned there and now under house arrest, wrote the song below while he was in jail and would sing it each day. A good share of the time Andrew was in a small room with 16 or more people who were very unpleasant to him. Considering the awful condition of his imprisonment, this song is quite meaningful.

As you listen to the audio or read the words, please pray for Andrew and other believers in Christ who are imprisoned for their faith around the world. More followers of Jesus are being persecuted or killed than at any time in history.

<https://m.soundcloud.com/ona-arpc/andrews-song>

You are worthy, worthy of my all
My tears and pain I lift up as an offering
Teach me to share in the fellowship of your suffering
Lamb of God you are worthy of my all.
You are worthy, worthy of my all
Adopted as a son, a brother to my King
Indeed I will share in your glory if I share your suffering
Jesus, you are worthy of my all.
You are worthy, worthy of my all
But my heart faints, drowned in sorrow, overwhelmed
Make me like you, Cross-bearer, persevering, faithful to the end
To stand the trial and receive the crown of life.
You are worthy, worthy of my all
This is my declaration in the darkest hour
Jesus, the Faithful One who loves me, always good and true
You made me yours, you are worthy of my all.
I want to be found worthy to stand before you on that day
With no regrets from cowardice, things left undone
To hear you say, "Well done, my faithful friend, now enter your reward"
Jesus, my Joy, you are the prize I'm running for.
You are worthy, worthy of my all
You are worthy, worthy of my all
What can I give to the Son of God, who gave himself for me
Here I am, you are worthy of my all.

03 Muslim Leader Calls for Conquest of “America, Britain, Russia, France, and Italy”

“Recently a Muslim spokesman in Tunisia named Said Khecharem, who is affiliated with the international pro-Sharia, pro-caliphate organization Hizbut-Tahrir, declared (to delighted screams of “Allahuakbar” from his audience), that the “establishment of an Islamic state...requires the conquest of America, Britain, Russia, France, and Italy – Rome and other infidel lands will be conquered, Allah willing.”

According to the Middle East Media Research Institute (MEMRI), Khecharem also said: “After the laws of Allah were abandoned, and the heretic regimes were imposed on the Muslims, the most important thing to do is to restore the rule of the Muslims, through the Quran and the Sunna, in order to renew Islamic life and to deliver the Islamic message to the world. My brothers, the implication of this today should be the establishment of an Islamic state over all the lands of the Muslims.”

And no call to restore the caliphate would be complete without a swipe at the Jews, whom the Qur’an designates (5:82) the worst enemies of the Muslims. Khecharem predicted that “this will happen, of course, after the elimination of the filthy Jewish entity, and after liberation of the lands under direct colonization, like Kashmir and others.”

If Said Khecharem were a non-Muslim saying that Muslims needed to destroy “the filthy Jewish entity” and conquer America, Britain, Russia, France, and Italy, he would be accused of “Islamophobia” and “bigotry.” But no one will take any particular notice of this.

They should, however. Khecharem is not some deluded fanatic raving on a Tunisian street corner. He was speaking at Hizbut-Tahrir’s International Caliphate Conference; although Hizbut-Tahrir is banned in many countries, it still has an international presence, and recently held a conference in Chicago.

Nor is the desire to establish a global caliphate limited to Hizbut-Tahrir alone. The word khalifa means “successor”; the caliph in Sunni Islamic theology is the successor of Muhammad as the military, political, and spiritual leader of the Muslims. As I show in my book The History of Jihad From Muhammad to ISIS, the great caliphates of history, from the immediate post-Muhammad period of the “Rightly Guided Caliphs” to the Umayyads, Abbasids, and Ottomans, as well as other Islamic states, all waged relentless jihad warfare against non-Muslims, subjugating them under the rule of Islamic law and denying them basic rights.

These weren’t the actions of a “tiny minority of extremists,” abhorred by the vast majority of peaceful Muslims for “hijacking” their religion. This was, for fourteen centuries, mainstream, normative Islam, carried forth by the primary authorities in the Islamic world at the time. The History of Jihad shows from the accounts of eyewitnesses and contemporary chroniclers through the ages that in every age and in every place where there were Muslims, some of them believed that they had a responsibility given to them by Allah to wage war against and subjugate unbelievers under the rule of Islamic law. And so it is today: Said Khecharem has enunciated that responsibility more clearly and directly than most Muslim spokesmen do these days, but he is by no means the only one who believes that it exists.

What is noteworthy also about The History of Jihad is something that it does not contain. As the jihadis move against non-Muslim states without any letup, pause, period of coexistence, period of tolerance, reformation, or reconsideration, there never appears any force of Muslims to oppose them. While it is undoubtedly true that not all Muslims in any given age have ever waged jihad, there has never been in Islamic history an Islamic entity or organization that was opposed to waging jihad and dedicated to stopping those who were waging it.

So it is today. Islamic groups in the West issue pro-forma condemnations after every jihad terror attack, but are doing little or nothing to try to prevent the next one. There is still no mosque or Islamic school in the United States that teaches young Muslims why they should reject the understanding of Islam taught by al-Qaeda, ISIS, and other jihad terror groups.

Meanwhile, Said Khecharem and other Islamic spokesmen openly call for Muslims to engage in jihad conquest. Western authorities should be pondering his words, and their implications, very carefully. Instead, if they have taken any notice of him at all, which is unlikely, they have dismissed him as an “extremist.”

They have yet to come to grips with the fact that “extremism” is and always has been so distressingly widespread in Muslim communities. But they will.

Jihadwatch.org

The book, The History of Jihad from Muhammad to ISIS, mentioned above is excellent and demonstrates that jihad consisting of terror and war has always characterized Islam and those who practice that religion. Let us pray for Muslims to be set free from delusion and for those in authority, especially in North America and Europe, to wake up to the serious threats they face from those who espouse true Islam.

04 A Great move of God in Missouri, USA

August 21, 2018 | By Charlene Aaron

Offer thanks to the Lord for His faithfulness and awesome power to save!...

Only Jesus has the power to save! His name is the only one in all the world that can save anyone.

(Acts 4:12)

“A US Army Chaplain says a revival is taking place on the base of Fort Leonard Wood in Missouri.

Since March nearly 2,000 soldiers have reportedly come to the Lord.

Chaplain (Capt.) Jose Rondon ministers at the base each week and has been posting testimonies and baptisms of new converts on his Facebook page.

“Today, 380 soldiers came to salvation in Christ once and for all,” Rondon says in one post. “Thanks CH Tony Cech for the excellent, clear, and powerful messages during the 3 services. Since March 11, 2018, we have seen 1,839 soldiers coming to Christ. God’s doing an unbelievable work through our military at Fort Leonard Wood, MO. May God bring the same powerful conviction of sin and love for Him that we are experiencing at Main Post Chapel all throughout our Nation and His world.”

In an interview with The Baptist Press, Rondon said that being intentional in sharing the gospel has been key to the conversions....

“To be intentional is to be faithful to Christ and obedient to His Great Commission,” Rondon said. “But we will not succeed in making disciples until the lost make the first step to follow Christ as their Savior. To be intentional not only means to preach Christ’s Word in the chapel, but to be sensitive to the Holy Spirit to share His message of reconciliation if, and when, the time fits.”

In a video showing hundreds of soldiers singing “Amazing Grace,” he commented, “I’m excited about the future of our military for millions of our Warriors who will sing GOD’s Amazing Grace. Glory to Christ, the only God, Savior, and Lord in this life and the one to come.”...

... Rondon credits the record number of salvations to the prayers of those who have been praying and encourages them to not stop.

“I want you to know that God is doing great things,” he said. “I’m asking you to please pray and help us to see not only today and since March 11th with almost 2,000 people coming to salvation in Christ Jesus, that the Lord is good and he desires not only to reconcile us, to reunite us to himself, through his death, burial and resurrection but also that he desires for the whole world and mainly our country, United States to know that if he’s doing great things in the military, he’s going to keep doing great things, in and throughout us for his glory in our society so in need of Christ Jesus our King.” (Excerpts from Charlene Aaron article on CBN News)”

Let’s pray for the outbreak of similar revival not just among our various nations’ militaries but also in other spheres of our societies!

05 Largest Ever Aid Package to Israel and Issues with Turkey

U.S. President Donald Trump signed the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA)... which includes a $550 million assistance package to Israel and temporarily halts the sale of F-35 fighter jets to Turkey. This comes amid tensions between the United States and Ankara, which is currently holding an American pastor hostage, among other political moves.

The $717 billion measure includes a bipartisan measure honoring a decade-long memorandum of understanding between America and Israel, with the United States giving $3.8 billion annually to the Jewish state.

The NDAA, titled the “John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for 2019,” authorizes funds for research and development pertaining to weapon-defense systems, including the Iron Dome, David’s Sling, Arrow 2 and Arrow 3 systems told help Israel defend against missile and rocket threats. Additionally, the law provides $50 million for joint U.S.-Israeli work on counter-tunnel technology, which has emerged as a major security threat to Israel in recent years from the Palestinian terror group Hamas.

The annual military blueprint also temporarily blocks the U.S. delivery of the F-35 fighter jets to Turkey in response to the detention of American pastor Andrew Brunson, whom the country accuses of participating in the failed 2016 coup against President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan.

Earlier this month, the United States slapped sanctions on two top Turkish government officials involved in Brunson’s detention. The White House also placed aluminum and steel tariffs on Turkey, and Trump said last Friday that he approved a doubling of those tariffs. The tariffs and sanctions have caused Turkey’s currency, the lira, to crash.

Diliman Abdulkader, director of the Kurdish Project at the Endowment for Middle East Truth, helped advise lawmakers regarding the Turkey provision in the NDAA and supports the current U.S. measures against Turkey.

“The F-35 is a big step in basically telling Turkey you’re not too big to fail,” Abdelkader told JNS. “Yes, they are a NATO ally, but the United States is also concerned for its own national security interests, and based on the rhetoric coming from Erdoğan, he seems to be threatening not only NATO interests but the United States as well.”

“[The] United States must adapt to the reality that we are not dealing with the same Turkey as in the past. Turkey under Erdogan is aggressive and contradicts American interests both in Europe and in the Middle East,” said Abdelkader. “Therefore, we have to change our foreign policy accordingly that will further isolate and pressure Turkey. We have to keep in mind all of Turkey’s internal and external problems are the doing of the Turkish government themselves, not the United States.”

Regarding U.S. sanctions and tariffs against Turkey, Abdulkader said that this pressure campaign cannot be limited to the country’s custody of Brunson.

“Erdoğan’s hostage-taking of Americans to gain diplomatic leverage is one of many violations he has committed,” he said. “There are countless of human-rights violations by Turkey that must be considered part of the equation, including Turkish threats against Americans in Syria, the Kurds and, most recently, an attempt to raid and arrest American officials in Incirlik Air Base” in the city of Adana, Turkey.

Let's keep the international security situation of the Middle East in our prayers, especially the nations of Israel and Turkey. Pray that the pressures being applied to Turkey and its economy and military will result in needed reforms and the overthrow of tyranny.

06 Russia postpones Afghanistan peace conference

Afghanistan and the US turned down invitations for the meeting but Taliban were willing to attend.

Afghan President Ghani wants talks with the Taliban 'to happen in presence of the Afghan government' [Mohammad Ismail/Reuters]

Russia has postponed a multilateral Afghanistan peace conference that was scheduled to take place in Moscow next month.

The meeting was scheduled to take place on September 4. Russia invited 12 countries to the conference. While Kabul and the US turned down the invitation, the Taliban said they were willing to attend.

On Monday, President Ghani spoke with Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov "to iron out the differences and ensure talks with the Taliban happen in presence of the Afghan government", a senior Afghanistan president official told Reuters news agency.

"The president of the IRA [Islamic Republic of Afghanistan], supporting in principle the idea of a Moscow meeting, proposed postponing it due to the need to develop Afghanistan's consolidated position on this issue, taking into account the ongoing personnel changes in the leadership of the Afghan ruling bloc," Russian Foreign Ministry said in a statement.

Lavrov assured Ghani that the summit dates "will be changed to ensure Afghanistan's participation", the official said.

In the official statement from Kabul, President Ghani was said to have hailed Moscow for its efforts for peace in Afghanistan.

"In the telephonic conversation, it was decided to postpone the Moscow conference so that the two countries can coordinate on further preparations and effectiveness of the process," the statement from Kabul added.

Earlier this week, Afghanistan's ambassador to Russia, Abdul Qayyum Kochai, said "Russia wants to use the Taliban against [ISIL]", according to comments carried by the Russia-focused Interfax news agency.

Lavrov brushed aside the comments, saying it would be "hypocritical" for "Russia to use the Taliban movement for the fight against [ISIL]".

This year, Moscow rejected an accusation by NATO's top commander in Afghanistan that it had been supporting and even supplying weapons to the Taliban.

The group is fighting to remove US and other foreign forces and defeat Afghanistan's Western-backed government.”

Please pray for the peace of Afghanistan. The current war has gone on for 17 years and needs to be brought to an end in a way that will keep the radical Islamists (Taliban and ISIS) from taking over the country. Pray for these peace talks and others that are necessary to bring this conflict to a just and proper conclusion that will benefit the Afghan people.

07 More from Afghanistan

Just a few days ago we sent a mail to you and asked you to pray for the city of Ghazni as the T*liban stormed the city on exactly a week ago. The Police chief of Afghanistan says that about a thousand fighters stormed the city and captured key buildings and installations, like the police headquarter, an army base, the prison and a number of other places.

Hundreds of people were killed, residents of Ghazni, soldiers, police and Taliban. The T*liban burnt part of the city down and looted many shops etc. It looked like they would capture the whole city. They brought in many more fighters from surrounding areas while the Government struggled to bring in reinforcements but they were ambushed on the way to Ghazni. As many started to pray there was suddenly a turnaround and the Afghan Army and police gained the upper hand and drove the T*liban out of the city. Now most of the city is freed but many people lost their lives and the city has been badly damaged in a number of areas.

The next horrible attack was carried out in Kabul by the IS on Wednesday the 15th of August: “Kabul suicide bomber kills 48 in tuition centre attack” - BBC News https://www.bbc.com/news/world-asia-45199904?ocid=wsnews.chat-apps.in-app-msg.whatsapp.trial.link1\_auiin

A suicide bomber walked into the center while the teaching was under way and detonated his bomb belt. It was reported that 48 people were killed and 67 injured, many of them seriously. Horrific scenes were witnessed after that attack. Most of the people killed were young students. This attack was in the Shia neighbourhood of Dasht-e-Barchi in Kabul and has seen several attacks already in the last year including a suicide attack in their mosque with many killed.

THANKS

Thank you for your prayers for the city of Ghazni. We strongly felt the Lord turning this hopeless situation around and caused the T*liban to flee. We trust that this is a turning point in the battle against the T*liban in this region

Please pray with us...

- that the T*liban and IS movements would be completely destroyed in the land.
- For the Afghan Army and Police to capture the areas under their control.
- For comfort for all the people that lost their relatives, especially the relatives of the students that have been killed in Kabul and the injured to recover.

- For many Afghans that have seen this demonic attacks in the name of their religion to turn away from the deception they believe in and to find the one that loves them and gave his life for them.
- Pray for our local brothers and expats that are trying to help and to reach out to them*.

We thank you for standing in prayer with the suffering people of this war-torn country. We have seen again the power of prayer turning a hopeless situation around!

(From some praying friends with great compassion for the people of Afghanistan)

08 “ISIS is back” and prepared for “war”

According to an alarming UN report, “ISIS is back...regaining strength....ready for war” and has “gathered 30,000 fighters and could be preparing for a wave of offensives around the world”. This comes as no surprise to those who understand the reality of jihad terror.

Meanwhile Al-Qaeda also remains dangerous, with powerful franchises in Yemen, Somalia and parts of north Africa. According to the report Al-Qaeda leader Ayman al-Zawahri is “projecting his authority more effectively than he could previously”.

According to the UN report, “there are also fears that ISIS fighters returning from Iraq and Syria could carry out attacks, especially in Europe.”

Jihadists everywhere, as well as the Muslim Brotherhood, are being increasingly emboldened worldwide while too many Western leaders are terrified to be branded with labels which are intended to manipulate people, such as “populist,” “racist,” “Islamophobic,” “anti-immigrant,” and the like.

Muslim Brotherhood operatives also work tirelessly in Western countries to indoctrinate people with the idea that violence is separate from Islam. Yet there is a superabundance of writings by Muslims clearly stating that it is the duty of Muslims to wage jihad in expanding the House of Islam. “Taliban Hamsa,” who was in charge of indoctrinating and recruiting for the Islamic State, “dared the police to call in a religious expert to prove his assertion that the “ISIS is true Islam.” Even a WaPo article entitled “Does ISIS really have nothing to do with Islam” stated:

If you actually look at ISIS’s approach to governance, it would be difficult – impossible, really – to conclude that it is just making things up as it goes along and then giving it an Islamic luster only after the fact. The truth is that the Islamic State rigidly adhered to Islamic texts and represented (and still represents) a reformist movement harking back to Islam’s early roots of conquest. This is precisely what makes it most troubling and also attractive to its zealous following.

The Islamic State, despite efforts to make it appear to be an aberration of Islam, garnered state support from Turkey — a country that is ambitiously moving toward EU membership. There were also “suspicions of Turkey recruiting ex-Isis fighters by the thousands to attack Kurds in Syria.” Islamic State sex slaves were also being auctioned off in Saudi Arabia.

The UN report warned: The underlying drivers of terrorism are all present and perhaps more acute than ever before.

“‘ISIS is BACK’ – Terror group ready for WAR with 30,000 fighters according to UN report”, by James Bickerton, Express, August 15, 2018:

The dramatic report claims ISIS is regaining strength in the deserts of western Iraq and eastern Syria, with between 20,000 and 30,000 fighters in the region.

According to the report these include: “A significant component of the many thousands of active foreign fighters.”

ISIS fighters are also “hiding out in sympathetic communities and urban areas” as the group focuses increasingly on guerrilla warfare.

The report claims that ISIS is particularly gaining strength in western Iraq, though it retains sizeable pockets in Syria.

The past 18 months have seen ISIS suffer a stunning series of defeats, with the group losing much of its self-styled state.

In July 2017 Iraqi and Kurdish forces, backed by Western airpower, recaptured Iraq’s third city of Mosul after a fierce battle.

This was followed by the fall of Raqqa, which ISIS had made its capital, to a coalition of Kurds and Syrian rebels in October.

At its peak around 10 million people lived under ISIS control, which extended from north of Baghdad in Iraq to the suburbs of Aleppo in Syria.

09 North American Prayer Summit 2018 Report and Ongoing Prayer Concerns

Here are some summary highlights and prayer concerns from the North American Prayer Summit that happened in Toronto, August 12-13.

Some of the NAPS prayer leaders from Mexico, Canada and the USA also took part in the UPRISING Canada prayer gathering of about 300 on-fire Millennials and youth. Here are some of the comments by NAPS participants about that experience:

We were touched by their “humility and worship” and it was “rejuvenating to be together”. “Our generations need one another”, as one older prayer leader affirmed.

The manager who was one of the “Toronto Blessing” participants and founders of the Catch the Fire Church was grateful for the boldness of the youth and a touch of revival they carried with them that has not been experienced for 20 years!

The youth were “alive and receptive” as well as “fresh, clean, vibrant and passionate”. They are “our future and the hope for the prayer movement”. The generations need to run together for a while to pass baton effectively.

NAPS is an annual, or sometimes biennial, gathering that includes a wonderful time of relationship-building and united prayer for the three nations of North America and our world. We have met nine times being hosted in all three nations since the launch of the IPC in 2001. For more information about NAPS, please write to office@ipcprayer.org.

Prayer concerns that arose during NAPS:

Children in Prayer:

Luke 10:18-21 Jesus rejoiced over the role of children, saying they would get the revelation of authority to bring Satan down. A research project conducted by a Christian humanitarian organization in several nations resulted in many miracles as the kids prayed about specific community needs (wells, clinics established where there were none; terminal illnesses healed; community divisions ended; terrorists unable to get into those areas, etc.) Since then, kids have joined in many international prayer initiatives and there have been three CiP global consultations to learn and share resources. 70-80 nations have CiP networks or initiatives so far. What about intentionally developing CiP in all three nations of North America? CiP is an important key to socio-political transformation and fulfillment of Great Commission throughout our world.

Prayer concerns:

- 1 For the CiP movement to arise and cover the cities and towns of our continent and all nations.
- 2 That church leadership will have a paradigm shift and include kids and youth as full ministry partners for prayer and mission.
- 3 That the need to control and fear of losing it will be broken over churches and leaders in order to equip and empower children and youth to go for it for Christ and His mission for their lives.

Mexico:

President Obrador or “AMLO” - some are concerned that he might take Mexico in the wrong direction (socialism), but some think he is a nationalist, not a Marxist, and that he will deal with governmental corruption and help the poor.

- 1 Pray for him to do what is right before God and have wisdom to confront the nation’s serious economic, narco-trafficking, and other issues.
- 2 Pray for the binding and overthrow of the spirit of death called Santa Muerte or Saint Death that probably relates to the Aztec and Mayan practice of mass human sacrifice and the awful death toll from the drug trade and cartels.
- 3 Pray for the 7 million unemployed youth that are getting sucked into the drug trade and for the defeat and dissolution of the drug cartels and their destructive influence on Mexico and all of North America.
- 4 Pray also for a good solution for the immigration problem that bedevils the relationship between Mexico and the USA.

North American Security:

(Presentation from a high-ranking authority involved in the North America military structure)

- 1 Vets of wars need special attention and help due to homelessness and suicide. Let's pray for them also.
- 2 Our three countries need each other because the competition between the great powers has returned. China and Russia have been building their militaries and developing sophisticated weaponry while we have been embroiled with fighting terrorism. Pray that our militaries will get smart and work together closely.
- 3 Pray for a cutting off of the drug flow from the Caribbean and Mexico fueled by the insatiable demand from Americans and Canadians.

Canada

An initiative against SOGI (Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity) effort to pervert the culture and children was presented. 105 pastors have signed and they hope to involve 100,000 pastors across the nation. It will be a trumpet call and will cause reaction by government and media. Pray for the success of this initiative, and especially for the fear of God to come upon Canadians along with a desire to re-establish righteousness and justice in national life. Pray for the pastors and churches right across Canada to rise up and speak out.

Overview of the Canada landscape presented and the issue of how the present governments (and previous governments) have caused a deterioration of fundamental Christian morality and beliefs. Canada has been sliding in this regard. Pray that the Canadian Christians and churches will rise up to make a real difference.

USA

Prayer Concerns for the US Prayer Movement

- 1 ) Give thanks to the Lord for growing unity and pray for the US prayer movement to flow like the Amazon (tributaries that become one unstoppable force for His revival and transformation of the nation)
- 2) Pray for oneness of US prayer leaders, no longer being competitors but flowing together and wanting each other's success more than our own. (Roundtable of US prayer leaders each month for prayer and updates)
- 3) For several national prayer initiatives over the next 2 months to shift the atmosphere of the nation and break the power of the spirit of division that is tearing us apart.
- 4) For access to the White House and Congress during the National Prayer Assembly to pray with our officials.

General Prayer Concerns

- ✦ For President Trump and his administration to be guided by the Lord with wisdom and humility.
- ✦ For the US mainstream media to repent for their false news and attacks on the current administration and for "Deep State" antagonists to be identified and brought to justice.
- ✦ Confirmation of Brett Cavanagh to Supreme Court and additional conservative justices (2 more?)
- ✦ For the mid-term elections in November to bring down the wicked in power and replace them with God-fearing, upright people who will love and serve the people rather than themselves.
- ✦ For good relations with our "enemies" in order to become friends and spread His peace and restoration to our world (Russia, China, North Korea, Pakistan, Iran, etc.)
- ✦ For better relationships and mutual support with our friends (Canada, Mexico, Europe, Israel, etc.)

10 New Leaders for Pakistan

Pakistan's lower house of parliament has chosen a lawmaker from the Pakistan Tehrik-e Insaf (PTI) party to be the parliament speaker following general elections in July that were marred by allegations of fraud.

AsadQaiser on August 15 secured 176 votes in the legislature to defeat Khusheed Shah, a joint candidate backed by opposition parties who received 146 votes.

PTI leader Imran Khan, a former cricket star turned politician, appears set to become prime minister when the 342-seat National Assembly votes on August 17. A swearing-in ceremony is scheduled for August 18.

The July 25 elections were won by the PTI, knocking former Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif's Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) from power.

But the PTI must ally with independents to form a majority coalition....

Supporters of the opposition parties have protested alleged fraud and voting irregularities in the elections, directly blaming the country's powerful military.

The army denies it intervened to help Kahn take power. Khan has vowed to investigate the allegations once he takes office.

A monitoring team from the European Union has said the election results "overall" were "credible," although they criticized the campaign -- saying it was marred by the intimidation of some candidates, an effort to undermine the former ruling party, and media self-censorship.

Violence leading to at least 31 deaths also was reported on election day.

With reporting by AP, Reuters, and Dawn

Pray for the new speaker of the Parliament and Prime Minister of Pakistan that they and other government leaders will take the nation off its destructive course.

Pray that the influence of radical Islamists and occult practitioners called “pirs” will be broken over the nation and the way it is ruled.

May the Gospel speed on throughout Pakistan’s many unreached people groups so they can be set free from the awful spiritual darkness and violence that engulfs this land.

May the Christians be strengthened, emboldened and protected to play their crucial role in prayer and action.

11 Pray about Nepal's Anti-Conversion Law

As you know, on August 15th, an anti-conversion law went into effect, putting Nepali Christians at risk for arrest, prosecution, and imprisonment.

TTI's National Director in Nepal informed us that, according to the law, "anyone responsible for encouraging conversion, propagating one's beliefs, or converting another, is an offender according to the law and will be punished with up to five years imprisonment and fined up to 50,000 Nepalese Rupees (about $500 USD - almost a year's salary for some)."

Thankfully, we have yet to hear news of any arrest or persecution from our church planters.

We will be sure to keep you updated.

Thank you again for standing with our brothers and sisters in Nepal.

Keep those prayers coming!

13 South Africa Needs Our Prayers

President Donald Trump on Wednesday asked Secretary of State Mike Pompeo "to closely study the South Africa land and farm seizures and expropriations and large scale killing of farmers," prompting Pretoria to accuse Trump of stoking racial divisions.

The tweet appeared to be a response to a Fox News report that focused on South Africa's land issue and murders of white farmers.

South African President Cyril Ramaphosa's spokeswoman said Trump was "misinformed" and the foreign ministry would seek clarification from the U.S. Embassy in Pretoria. A tweet from South Africa's official government account said, "South Africa totally rejects this narrow perception which only seeks to divide our nation and reminds us of our colonial past."

Ramaphosa announced on Aug. 1 that the ruling African National Congress plans to change the constitution to allow the expropriation of land without compensation, as whites still own most of South Africa's territory. No land has been "seized" since the reform plans were announced, the ANC says.

Ben Carson News

Two million South Africans will be coming together in several days for a massive prayer gathering. Angus Buchan, a white farmer, is the leader of this amazing new movement.

Please pray for this beautiful nation for the overthrow of government corruption and the awful violence and crime that has plagued South Africa in recent years in spite of the Truth and Reconciliation effort of the past.

Pray for this mega-prayer gathering to be anointed and guided by the Holy Spirit and for the breakthrough the Christians, both black and white, want to see in their country.

14 Russia's Biggest War Games In Almost 40 Years

"300,000 Troops and 900 Tanks: Russia's Biggest Military Drills Since Cold War

Aug. 28, 2018

According to the New York Times, "Russia is mobilizing for its biggest military exercise since the height of the Cold War, the Kremlin says, citing a tense international climate that is "frequently aggressive and unfriendly toward us."

The exercises, which are set to involve nearly 300,000 Russian troops, 1,000 aircraft and 900 tanks, will also include units from China for the first time. They will start on Sept. 11.

In a separate display of military power, Russia was reported on Tuesday to have assembled a large flotilla of warships off the coast of Syria. Russian news media outlets, citing unnamed defense ministry officials, described it as Russia's largest naval deployment in the area since Moscow first intervened in Syria's civil war in September 2015.

The move follows a flurry of claims by Russia, unsupported by evidence, that the West is preparing to stage a fake chemical weapons attack inside Syria as a pretext for an assault on the forces of the Syrian dictator Bashar al-Assad.

Known as Vostok-2018 or East-2018, the September military exercises, involving land and air units, will begin near Russia's eastern border with China and Mongolia. Both have agreed to join a series of regular exercises that used to be restricted to Russia and countries that were either once part of the Soviet Union or Soviet allies.

The participation of China, which will send helicopters and about 3,200 troops from the People's Liberation Army, signals a significant reshaping of military exercises that began in the Soviet era. For decades they were aimed primarily at preparing the Red Army for a possible attack by or on China.

The Soviet Union and China clashed repeatedly along their long border in the late 1960s, nearly tumbling into all-out war. They remained bitter foes until the Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev normalized relations with a visit to Beijing in 1989.

President Vladimir V. Putin, his ties with the West severely strained by Russia's 2014 annexation of Crimea and military incursions into eastern Ukraine, has put a premium on developing ever closer ties with China as a counterweight and insurance policy against the United States.

Asked on Tuesday at a regular briefing with reporters why Vostok-2018 would be so big, a Kremlin spokesman, Dmitri Peskov, said, "The country's ability to defend itself in the current international situation, which is frequently quite aggressive and unfriendly toward us, is absolutely justified and has no alternative."

Russia's defense minister, Sergei Shoigu, was quoted by Russian news agencies as saying that the exercises in Russia's far east would be the "biggest drill to take place in Russia since 1981." That was the year large exercises known as Zapad, or West, were held by the Soviet Union and its Warsaw Pact allies.

The last iteration of the Zapad drills was held in September 2017 in conjunction with Belarus, the former Soviet republic and close Russian ally. That action unnerved the Baltic States and Poland, which feared that the fictional nations invented by Russian military planners as targets for a simulated attack were thinly disguised proxies for their own countries.

In the West, Russia faces off against NATO, but on its eastern flank, it has no obvious enemy or rival. The area has instead become a zone where Russia is keen to demonstrate its close ties to China, despite the risk that Russia's weak economy and vast expanses of sparsely populated territory make it a vulnerable junior partner.

Alexander Gabuev, a China expert at the Carnegie Moscow Center, a research group, said that while the scale of the exercises was significant, "what is most significant is that China is taking part in drills that Russia only used to do with its allies."(italics ours)

"China was seen as the potential threat or target in exercises like Vostok," Mr. Gabuev said, "but it is now being invited to join as a friend and even a quasi-ally. This is really unprecedented."

All the same, he said, Chinese troops taking part in Vostok-2018 may well be restricted to a military training ground in Tsugol, near where the borders of China, Russia and Mongolia meet. That could allow a far bigger Russian contingent elsewhere to prepare for clashes with China.

Russia's military, Mr. Gabuev said, "is not so naïve that it is not preparing a contingency plan" in case relations with China take a sudden turn for the worse, as has happened many times in the past.

Pray that Russia and China will not form a military alliance to threaten the West or other regions and nations.

16 Faith Under Fire - Iran

Iran's mullah-led Islamic regime has sentenced four Christians to harsh prison terms for practicing their faith. Pastor Victor Bet-Tamraz and his wife Shamiram Issavi, who are ethnic Assyrian Christians, and Amin Afshar Naderi and HadiAsgari, who are Christian converts from Islam, were sentenced to a combined total of 45 years in prison, reported CBN News.

The charges were conducting “illegal church activities” and spreading propaganda that “threaten national security.”

“These Christians were solely arrested for practicing their Christian faith, including attending Christmas gatherings and organizing house churches,” Mike Ansari of the group Heart4Iran told CBN News.

Bet-Tamraz was arrested in 2014 when plain-clothed security forces raided his home during a Christmas party.

He was sentenced to 10 years in prison in 2017 by an Iranian Revolutionary Court along with Asgari for “forming a group,” meaning their church activity, “composed of more than two people with the purpose of disrupting national security.”

The court also sentenced Naderi to five years in prison for allegedly insulting Islam.

Issavi was sentenced this year to five years in prison for “membership of a group with the purpose of disrupting national security” and another five years for “gathering and colluding to commit crimes against national security.”

Amnesty International, CBN noted, says Christians in Iran “have been a target of harassment, arbitrary arrest and detention, unfair trials, and imprisonment on national security-related charges solely because of their faith.”The human-rights group said that in the past year alone, “dozens of Christians, mostly Christian converts, have been targeted.”

The four Christians, currently free on bail, are awaiting the verdict of their appeal. “If they are imprisoned, they will be prisoners of conscience,” Ansari told CBN News. “We ask you to continue to pray for the Iranian Christians that are highly persecuted.”

Amnesty International has launched an “urgent action” appeal urging supporters to write to Iranian authorities, asking them to “stop harassment, arbitrary arrest and detention, and imprisonment of Christians, including converts, in Iran.”

Human Rights Watch also blasted the Iranian regime for the crackdown on Christians, the Jerusalem Post reported.

“Since May 2018, revolutionary courts have sentenced at least 208 members of the religious minority to prison terms and other punishments in trials that violate their basic rights,” the group said in a statement.

“The authorities detained more than 300 community members in the notorious Fashafuyeh and Qarchack prisons after late February protests that included violent clashes between protesters and security forces in Tehran.”

The Post said the European Union, according to Iran experts, appears to be prioritizing the preservation of the Iran nuclear deal over human rights abuses.

The EU is seeking to retain the deal after the U.S. withdrew from it in May.

Tzvi Kahn, a senior Iran analyst at the Foundation for Defense of Democracies, wrote a policy article titled “The EU’s Passivity on Iran’s Human Rights Abuses,” the Post reported.

“Whereas the Trump administration has issued fresh sanctions against 17 [Iranian] human rights abusers to date, the EU has imposed no new human rights sanctions since the 2015 nuclear deal,” Kahn wrote.

Let's pray for these brave followers of the Lord in Iran and for the fast-growing movement to Christ that they represent. Pray for a new government that will uphold religious freedom and that the Christian movement will explode even more throughout the nation.

19 About International Prayer Connect (IPC)

OUR VISION:

"Compelled by God to seek Christ's glory worldwide for the blessing, healing, and transforming of the nations, International Prayer Connect exists as a coalition of prayer networkers and mobilizers working together to motivate, develop and equip national movements and local churches to fill all nations with prayer for the fulfillment of the Great Commandment and the completion of the Great Commission."

HOW WE OPERATE:

The IPC is not an organization as such. We are a fellowship of people involved in mobilizing prayer throughout the world. We function as an international "network of networks", connecting international, regional, and national prayer ministries and networks. We also arrange or support special prayer initiatives that bring prayer leaders together from time to time to pray for matters of regional and global concern to the Body of Christ. Regional prayer summits have been arranged or supported by the IPC in most regions of the world as well as international prayer initiatives for the United Nations, Hollywood, and other issues.

The IPC is led by an international leadership team, now called the International Prayer Council, is composed of twenty leaders who coordinate regional prayer networks or international prayer initiatives of various kinds. We seek to be catalysts and connectors within the global prayer movement towards the fulfillment of Habakkuk 2:14- that "the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea."

We do not have an official membership but connect with individuals and networks through IPC Connections, a periodical newsletter distributed via e-mail to give prayer information to interested people. Please share this newsletter with prayer coordinators, prayer network leaders, and others who have an interest in the global prayer movement so that they can be informed about different prayer initiatives, existing prayer networks, and how to participate in them
